

Parish of Saint Columbanus, Loughlinstown

Office Phone

Due to a line fault, our parish office phone has been out of order since Thursday 29th May. We have been informed by Eir that new cabling is required and permission from DLRCOCO is needed to carry out this work. Eir were unable to give us a time or date as to when this work will be carried out. Regrettably anyone who has tried to contact the parish office would still get a ringtone and be able to leave a voicemail. Unfortunately we are unable to access the voicemails to return your call. The only form of contact with the office at this time is to call in person to the office, Tuesday to Friday 9am to 1pm or through our email: parishofloughlinstown@gmail.com

We apologise for any inconvenience caused.
